Inside Your Congress

Labor Legislation

—by—
SAMUEL R. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The "Case" bill passed the House by a tremendous vote, but it may never "get out" of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor. The chairman of that committee, Senator Murray of Montana, is quoted as saying so. Then there are such other "friends of labor" as Thomas of Utah, Pepper of Florida, Guffey of Pennsylvania, LaFollette of Wisconsin, Morse of Oregon, etc.

It will take much labor and education to get this committee to act. It is the same committee which, at Mr. Roosevelt's orders, twice "buried" previous amendments of the Wagner Act passed by the House. The idea is to hold up action for a month or two until the present "big strikes are over" when it is hoped the country will lose interest until the next crisis arises.

But will the strikes be over so soon? I begin to wonder. The happy belief has prevailed until recently that we have this "huge backlog" of demand for autos, refrigerators, curling irons, etc.; we have this "enormous purchasing power" of war "savings," and added to that, the idea that "the strikes will be out of our system by April and then we will go into high gear." How valid are these assumptions? Will the strikes be over by April?

Meantime, Quill of New York, sworn to be a Communist, (which he loudly denies) threatened to tie up the city's transport with "5000 deaths"; many pickets in many cities defy court injunctions; public schools all closed by fear of violence; men who want to work are slugged to keep them from working; new strikes are threatened in coal mines, railroads and utilities. Vital parts of the industrial machine are slowing down. While this goes on, the war savings are being dissipated and spent.

All this is a matter for rejoicing by the New York Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist International. Overseas, Joseph Stalin, who soft-soaped glibly Presidents, Ambassadors, Senators, magazine writers and other tall-domed intellectuals with the idea that he was now a "mellow old gentleman," tired of the smell of blood and anxious to die in bed, has resumed the class struggle, world-wide. He is charging that the war was a capitalist conspiracy, and is rattling a million sabers. That his agents are promoting unrest in Asia, the near East, France, Greece, the Balkans, and are in every big city in Canada, the United States and Latin America, is something we had better begin to suspect if we do not know. If the country knew all that Mr. J. Edgar Hoover of the F. B. I. knows, it would lose its smugness quickly. I have a letter from him expressing his appreciation for what I have done to get the country "on the alert."

If the big show-down comes in America, as it has in so many other countries, it will be a matter of life and death.

French Dry Cleaning Plant Planned Here

The building situated at Swain and Mifflin streets, and occupied a number of years ago by Philadelphia Electric Co. for manufacture of gas, has been leased by that firm to Victory Cleaners.

Victory Cleaners is having the building remodeled for use as a complete French dry cleaning plant. This is said to be the first plant of its kind in lower Bucks County.

The Victory Cleaners state it is their hope to have the plant in operation within two or three months, and expect to offer a six-hour cleaning service where necessary.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1946
DURING THIS LENT
A Lenten appeal "on behalf of the war-shattered, spirit-weary peoples of the earth," asking for funds from American church people, has been announced by Dr. Leslie B. Moss, director of the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction. The statement says that no further depicting of these people's hunger, their homelessness, their persecutions is needed. Their story has been told and retold.
The appeal outlined three ways the help of Christians may be given during this Lent: By giving up the equivalent of one meal a week to the postwar funds of the church to which they belong, above any regular gift already planned; by giving up some customary expenditure for that period; by taking something from their savings accounts that would constitute a truly sacrificial gift.
Such gifts designated for relief in either Europe or Asia are being used to purchase and ship foods—wheat, canned goods and dried milk—to those who are hungry. Such funds also are being used to provide blankets, shoes, sleeping bags, children's layettes, medicines and hospital supplies.
Most Americans do not comprehend the utter misery that stalks the war-ravaged lands. People are slowly slipping beyond help. A gift at once may save several lives. It will give new meaning to Lenten sacrifice for Christ.

ASSETS IN DANGER

From Manila comes word that President Osmena is considering a special trip to Washington to ask again for American aid in rehabilitating the Philippines. He is reported to be contemplating a personal appeal to Congress because he fears that otherwise funds for that purpose will not be appropriated before the islands become independent.
For more than a year the greater part of Philippine territory has been liberated. It has been more than six months since Japan surrendered. President Osmena is entitled to feel that Congress may fail to act in the four months before July 4 unless something is done.
The amount provided in the pending bill, $450,000,000, does not seem over-generous in view of what the people of the Philippines suffered in the common cause at Japanese hands. But if it is, it can be reduced. The important thing is to get the rehabilitation program started promptly in order that this nation may be spared an embarrassing and indeed shameful spectacle.
Congress should act also on the Bell Bill, which provides tariff arrangements after Philippine independence. The United States owes it to the Filipinos to give them a fair chance to build a sound and stable economy.
But from the American viewpoint both pieces of legislation are necessary. High Commissioner McNutt has just pointed out that America needs bases in the Western Pacific, but it also needs the "friendship and confidence of the millions of people of the Orient." These assets are in danger. America cannot afford to lose them.

INSIDE YOUR CONGRESS

lands, do we want so much irresponsible power lying around loose, which might tie this nation into knots?
This is the "line" from Moscow: "Control of the means of transportation in the major cities of the capitalist nations is the first step in the revolutionary seizure of power." In 1917, about a half million Bolsheviks got control of a few vital utilities, and a nation of 160,000,000 were helpless. People in New York City know how vulnerable a great city can be to the pressure of a few fingers on its jugular vein.
For these reasons, it seems to me that responsible and patriotic labor leaders, such as William Green, are making a mistake in appearing to oppose all labor legislation which might bring lawless groups within the labor unions under public control. It is the same attitude shown by the utility and stock market leaders in 1933, '34 and '35. It is an old saying that "revolution eats its own children." Once loose, it gets beyond the control of moderate men.
No doubt valid objections can be made to parts of the Case bill. Let them be pointed out. But the country plainly expects a labor bill, fair to both sides, to be passed.
Judge Oliver Wendell Holmes was a liberal and a friend of labor's legitimate aspirations. But he said, "I have no doubt that when the power of either capital or labor is exerted in such a way as to attack the life of the community, those who seek their private interest at such cost are public enemies and should be dealt with as such."

Fleetwings Deny Speculative Story

In response to inquiries by The Courier, it was announced today by the Fleetwings management that "Henry J. Kaiser and Joseph W. Frazer, accompanied by Mr. Kaiser's sons, Edgar F. Kaiser and Henry J. Kaiser, Jr., made a routine inspection visit at the plant Monday."
As to rumors that this visit concerned development of aluminum automobile bodies officials at the plant declared: "We are unable to make any comment at this time."

SUBSIDIES AND SOCIALISM

Uncle Sam is in debt to the full extent of all the physical resources of the nation. He already has printed far more money than is safe if we are to avoid inflation, and extended his credit to the breaking point.
Further large-scale spending, under such circumstances, merely hurries forward the day when the debt-structure of the nation will collapse. Its breakdown will impoverish not only the national government, but all individuals; since their possessions are in hock to support the national debt.
Use of private capital—the savings, insurance, War Bonds, etc., of the American people—to finance the housing boom would mean a direct benefit to the people and also to the government.
But any attempt, such as the President recommended, to finance the program through a government that already is too far in debt, strains national credit that much nearer disaster, and at the same time dams up still higher the vast accumulated savings of the nation which are one of the major threats of inflation.
The effect of the Congressional vote, which was cast by an overwhelming majority numbering both Democrats and Republicans, is to knock down the use of the housing emergency as a lever for Socializing America, and at the same time to clear the way for meeting the needs in the American method of free enterprise.
The "price control" end of the program has been a phony from the start. In its spare time Congress might consider passing a law against White House spokesmen calling "price controls" those plans which make no attempt to control prices, but merely to disguise them through subsidies.
As used by the current administration, price controls are a device to shove part of the prices over to the taxpayers. The plan is intellectually dishonest and economically fantastic.
The only group which stands to benefit by the program are those who want to see the already-swollen Federal payrolls doubled in the next few years, and are willing to face the possibility of national bankruptcy because they assume that this would open the door to a "new-order" revolution.
The OPA price-control scheme is a palpable gold-brick swindle of the American people. It already has greatly added to the true cost of getting to market every commodity affected, and has dried up production in one essential line after another.
Furthermore, the OPA tactics have done more to release the inflationary spiral generated by national finance than any other factor in Washington life.
The present strike-deadlock would never have come into existence if OPA hadn't attempted to shade prices too close to cover wage increases.
President Truman has loaned the prestige of his office to a brazen effort to revolutionize American economy. Step by step he has been blocked by the national Congress on behalf of the American people.
Is there no way by which he can be persuaded that the great service he can do his country is in finding ways, not for the government to spend more money, but for it to spend less?

WHEN A SERVICEMAN hits New York or San Diego after years overseas, there's no sound in all the world like that of a familiar voice from home.

It's still a big job to take the boys "home" by Long Distance telephone in a matter of minutes. But it's one your telephone company really enjoys.

Your cooperation in keeping Long Distance calls brief is still necessary to speed the calls of these returning servicemen. But many thousands of miles of Long Distance circuits are being installed to take care of the added demand for Long Distance service.

Delays in Long Distance connections will grow less and less. That, you can count on.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

For four years Jess Turner ran his harness shop alone. But now his nephew's discharged from the Navy and is back to help him.

Right away, it seems that nephew Delbert has some new ideas. He wants more money, shorter hours—and meanwhile Jess' expenses have been going up!

So what does Jess do? He invites Delbert to sit down over a friendly glass of beer and talk the situation over. Jess figures how he can give Delbert some extra dollars, and certain interests in the business; and Delbert figures how he can speed up production on harnesses—and do some saddle work, besides. And they seal the bargain with another friendly glass of beer.

Of course, all labor troubles aren't so simple. But from where I sit, if there could be more friendly discussion—more give and take—more tolerance and understanding—both sides would be a heap better off.
